

What is hi hfx?

hi hfx is my attempt at a slow-form, human-driven way to connect with fellow Haligonians and exchange positive experiences.

hihfx.ca is a rudimentary website that allows you to submit a simple, anonymous message (that goes to my personal email inbox). Once a week, I'll copy & paste the messages I receive back onto the website for the people to read. That's it – that's the whole idea.

If you feel so inclined, check out hihfx.ca and share something nice! Maybe it's a great coffee spot you'd recommend. A recent accomplishment that you're proud of. A fond memory, or an act of kindness you just witnessed.

If you're anything like me (totally sick of social apps), I hope this can be a refreshing change of pace.
